2. Our Vision Statement

- Excellent academic achievement and fulfilled potential
- A collaborative approach to holistic education partnering with the home and the Church

- Knowing what it means to be valuable and responsible members of society
- Understanding that we are all wonderfully made in God’s Holy image

‘The proof of love is in the works. Where love exists, it works great things.

But when it ceases to act, it ceases to exist.’

St Gregory the Great

3. Code of Conduct

Our Code of Conduct is 'Ready, Respectful, Safe.' It is displayed in all classrooms and is carried by all students in their journal. It outlines our shared and fundamental expectations of behaviour in class and around the school site. The following guidelines show the ways in which we expect you to follow our School Code in your daily life at school, on your journey to and from school, when you are at home doing your school work and at any time when you are acting as a representative of the school

Ready, Respectful, Safe.

I am Ready by ...

1. Arriving at school on time.
2. Arriving at lessons on time.
3. Arriving equipped for my lesson
4. Standing in silence behind my allocated seat and waiting for my teacher to ask me to sit down.
5. Completing my homework to the highest standard and ready to hand in.

I am respectful by...

1. Wearing smart uniform.
2. Following instructions, the first time.
3. Listening to adults and other learners - only one person speaks
4. Speaking and acting politely to everyone
5. Working to the best of my ability.

I stay safe by...

1. Being in the right place at the right time.
2. Keeping my mobile off and out of sight.
3. Telling a staff member if someone isn't safe.
4. Never using physical aggression.
5. Bringing nothing into school that could harm someone.

How teachers will encourage good behaviour

- Positive Praise
- Formal Caution
- Consequence
- Reconciliation

Serious breaches of code:

Making someone unsafe; outright defiance; bringing our school into disrepute.

4. Sanctions

We expect you to follow the School Code and behave well at all times, so that everyone can learn in a safe environment. Any Behaviour deemed contrary to the School Code will be dealt with firmly, including the following examples:

Bullying, racism or sexism These will not be tolerated at St Gregory the Great.

Disrupting the learning of others This will not be tolerated and is likely to lead to some form of exclusion.

Refusing to accept the authority of a teacher or other adult This is also likely to lead to some form of exclusion.

Defacing or damaging school property This is likely to lead to a fine and exclusion. Rudeness or bad language Rudeness to a member of staff will probably result in exclusion. Rudeness published in print or on the Internet could lead to permanent exclusion.

Fighting and/or physical assault on another member of our community This will normally lead to temporary or permanent exclusion from school.

Smoking in school or on the way to or from school No smoking or vaping is permitted anywhere on the school site, smoking materials must not be brought onto the site. Smoking is also not permitted in school uniform even outside of school grounds. Students with smokers (but not smoking) are also subject to sanctions which can range from detention to exclusion.

Possession/Passing of Drugs If you bring drugs into school, pass or receive drugs, the school will seek permanent exclusion, in line with the school's drugs policy. Alcohol will be treated in a similar way to drugs.

Misbehaviour on buses or walking to/from school This will be treated as seriously as misbehavior at school. School rules and standards apply whilst you are in school uniform.

Mobile phones or other unauthorised electronic equipment (such as Smart watches) in school. If we see, hear or hear about any such item it will be confiscated and retained for a minimum of three days; after that time, it will be available for collection by a parent from the School Office.

"Audio equipment and photographic equipment must not be used in school without special permission from a senior member of staff. This includes recording and photographic facilities on mobile phones. Where this rule is ignored, the device will be confiscated until a parent collects it and a sanction will be issued.

Having make-up or wearing jewellery which should not be in school These items will be confiscated and returned after an appropriate period

Having any dangerous or inappropriate items in school including: aerosols, smoking materials, laser pens, weapons of any sort and any other items which could cause harm to other members of our community. Items of this nature will be confiscated and not returned and further action such as exclusion may result.

Buying or selling any item on school premises without permission will always result in a Sanction

Appendix.1

We use positive praise to encourage good behaviour for learning. While each incident needs to be judged on its own merit, we have a consistent response number to poor behaviour choices.

Formal Caution A formally-worded caution using a calm tone: “I have noticed you ... (misbehaviour)... That isn’t (Ready/Respectful/Safe). If you choose to continue, then I will have to ... (consequence).”

Consequence Sometimes a conversation with an adult resolves a situation. Formal consequences include a 30 minute detention (served on the same day), an hour detention, internal isolation, or in extreme cases a fixed-term exclusion. Permanent exclusion may be appropriate for serious breaches to the code of conduct or persistent disruptive behaviour over time.

Internal Isolation

Behaviour in class, or around the school site, which is of a serious nature, but not thought to warrant a fixed-term exclusion, may result in a period in isolation. Students may also spend time in internal isolation with a Head of Year or a member of SLT while a serious incident is being investigated, or while we are waiting for parents to collect a student for a fixed-term exclusion.

Fixed-Term Exclusion

Wherever possible, the school seeks to avoid the issuing of fixed-term exclusions. However, in cases which involve students using physical or verbal abuse or aggression to staff or physical assault on another student, or bringing a weapon into school, then a fixed-term exclusion is a likely outcome. Moreover, any other high level incident, such as theft, vandalism, substance misuse or the use or dealing of illegal drugs, is likely to result in a fixed-term exclusion and possibly in permanent exclusion.

Fixed-term exclusions are served at home under parental supervision. The exclusion allows students the time to reflect on their actions and what they have learned from this experience and gives the school time to consider how they will best support the student upon their return. It also allows the school community that was damaged by poor behaviour to heal.

The length of the exclusion given will sometimes vary for very similar incidents depending on the student’s previous behaviour history.
